Defense Health Agency

The Office of General Counsel (OGC)

Mr. Erik Troff

Office of General Counsel

Mr. Erik Troff

Defense Health Agency

Protect the Integrity of the Procurement Process and Ensure Fair and Equal Treatment to Contractor Participants

Office of General Counsel

Mr. Erik Troff

Defense Health Agency

Government personnel - ground rules:

- Conduct business with integrity and in a transparent manner
- No preferential treatment (or appearance of preferential treatment) for any individual or company
  - Equal/fair access for ALL to public information regarding government needs/requirements
  - Avoid giving any vendor a competitive advantage by discussing non-public information, especially during one-on-one interactions
- Recuse yourself from acquisition discussion if you have a personal conflict of interest
- Protect non-public information, vendor proprietary information, or information received in confidence from a vendor
- Don't recommend courses of action for vendors regarding particular requirements

Office of General Counsel

Mr. Erik Troff

Defense Health Agency

Vendor ground rules:

- Submission of capability statement, “white papers”, and other materials does not constitute a formal proposal submission; DHA will use materials submitted for market research purposes only
- Understand that answers provided during the course of the Industry Day are not official and will not be binding on the DHA

Office of General Counsel

Mr. Erik Troff

Defense Health Agency

General Notes:

- Post Industry Day follow-up meetings/discussions with vendors will fall under the market research umbrella
  - DHA discourages vendors from submitting proprietary information; if you submit proprietary information, please mark it as such
  - Government remains obligated to treat vendors fairly/equally, disclose only public information, avoid giving any vendor a competitive advantage, etc.
- If DHA ultimately develops requirements relating to the specified topic areas, normal acquisition rules (e.g., satisfy Competition in Contracting Act requirements) and processes will apply as a Agency seeks to fulfill those requirements
