Patient Safety Program

DoD Patient Safety Learning Center

The Department of Defense (DoD) Patient Safety Program (PSP) Patient Safety Learning Center (PSLC) is a resource for medical and dental professionals to come together and partner for a new level of care. As an active Member, you will create connections across facilities and professions dedicated to advancing patient safety knowledge.

Connect with other Patient Safety professionals

The DoD PSLC is a member-based community wiki, or secure online knowledge collaboration space, for DoD Patient Safety personnel—including Commanders, physicians, nurses, patient safety managers, quality coordinators, and others engaged in creating a culture of safety.

The DoD PSLC supports the dissemination, collaboration, and active exchange of knowledge and resources to promote communication and increase awareness across the patient safety community. You can contribute to the latest discussion topic designed for patient safety professionals to share their insights and experiences or check out the details for the upcoming Learning Action Network (LAN) Webinar and add it to your personal Microsoft Outlook calendar. Visit the DoD PSLC to remain current on patient safety news and alerts.

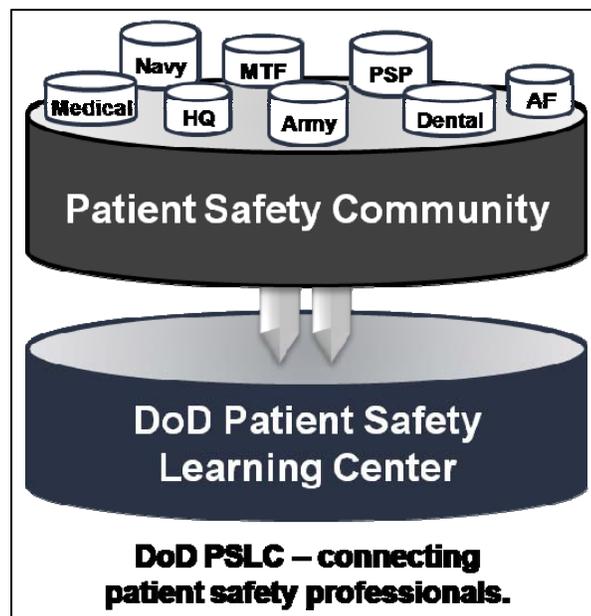

The DoD PSLC enables you to access and contribute lessons learned, best practices, community events, and more. You can find great tools and resources, like the new Professional Conduct Toolkit or the Patient Safety Reporting System network.

Register for and participate in learning opportunities

Via the DoD PSLC, you have access to patient safety e-learning and classroom courses, some of which offer Continuing Health Education credits. You can complete TeamSTEPPS® eGuide to Action before you begin your TeamSTEPPS classroom training, or learn more about and register for the new Basic Patient Safety Manager course. You can also access online Joint training on relevant military medical and health topics, offered by the Joint Knowledge Development and Distribution Capability (JKDDC) Joint Knowledge Online (JKO).
