

BIOGRAPHY

John Reibling

John Reibling, LSCW, served with the Marines in Vietnam, and was a Drill Sergeant in the Army Ready Reserves. He managed residential facilities for juveniles in Kentucky for 5 years after receiving his Master in Social Work from the U of KY prior to coming back into the military as a uniformed Navy Social Worker. He provided mental health counseling, family advocacy services, and managed quality of life programs for the Navy, retiring as a Lieutenant Commander. Since then he has been a Program Manager for the Navy's Fleet and Family Service Centers, a Social Work Supervisor for the Northern Virginia Mental Health Institute, a Clinical Director for the Federal Occupational Health EAP, and a mental health provider. Since 2005 he has been the EAP Program Manager for the Coast Guard. He is a past president of the Virginia Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers.