

A. Ray Pentecost III, DrPH, AIA, ACHA

Dr. Pentecost is currently the Vice President and Director of Healthcare Architecture at Clark Nexsen in Norfolk, Virginia, a position he has held since 2003. Previously, he was Chief Executive Officer of The Health Enterprise Group; the Chief Executive Officer of Mid-Atlantic Women's Care PLC.; the Vice President for Practice Management, United Medical Care, P.L.L.C.; the President of Health Environments, Inc.; the President of Gerontological Health Consultants, Inc.; the Vice President of Technology Serving People, Inc.; the Director of Business Development of Gelsomino-Johnson Architects; and the Vice President of Information Design, Inc. Dr. Pentecost has held faculty appointments as a Research Assistant Professor and an Adjunct Assistant Professor in Environmental Sciences at the University of Texas, School of Public Health; a Faculty Associate at the Center for Health Promotion Research and Development; an Adjunct Research Assistant Professor in Community Health Practice at the University of Texas, School of Public Health; a Clinical Assistant Professor, General Instructor at the University of Texas, School of Nursing; a faculty advisor for Student Enrichment at the Huffington Center of Aging in the Baylor College of Medicine; an Adjunct Associate Professor at the University of Houston, College of Architecture; and an Adjunct Professor/Advisor in the Department of Architecture at the School of Engineering and Technology at Hampton University. Academically, Dr. Pentecost has a Bachelor of Architecture Degree from Rice University, College of Architecture (1977); a M.P.H from the University of Texas, School of Public Health (1979); and a DrPH from the University of Texas, School of Public Health (1982).

Dr. Pentecost is a member of American College of Healthcare Architects; the Texas Society of Architects; the Houston Chapter of the American Institute of Architects; the VISTA Awards Jury, American Society of Healthcare Engineers; and the Virginia Society of Architects. He is on the Dean's Advisory Board at Old Dominion University College of Health Sciences and is a member of the Board of Directors for the Virginia Commonwealth University Health System Authority. Among his numerous recognitions include Best Design and Construction (2007) by the City of Hampton Renaissance Award Program; First Place for Healthcare Interior Design Excellence (2008) by State Chapters, American Society of Interior Designers (ASID) and the International Interior Design Association (IIDA); and the Innovation Award (2008) from the National Council for Public-Private Partnerships (NCPPP). Dr. Pentecost has received research support from the following organizations: the American Hospital Association-American Institute of Architects; Texas Department of Labor and Standards; the University of Houston; American Institute of Architects; Harris County Hospital District; and the Harris County Medical Society. Dr. Pentecost has authored over 42 publications. He has delivered 19 presentations at international colloquiums and conferences, 28 presentations to state audiences, and 20 presentations to academic audiences.