

Orlando Portale, M.A.

Mr. Portale is currently the Chief Technology and Innovation Officer for Palomar Pomerado Health in San Diego, California, a position he has held since 2005. Previously, he was President of Portale & Company Inc., the General Manager for the Global Health Industry Business Development for Sun Microsystems, the Executive Director of Mergers and Acquisitions and Technology Integration Office, the Senior Advisor for Commercial and Government Health at Science Applications International Corporation (SAIC), and the Department Head for Applied Clinical Informatics at the University of Michigan Health System. Academically, Mr. Portale received a Master of Advanced Studies in Healthcare Leadership from the University of California San Diego School of Medicine.

Mr. Portale is a member of the following professional organizations: the American Health Information Community Successor, Brookings Institution, Business Sustainability Committee; the American Hospital Association Technical Advisory Board; the California Hospital Association, Conference Faculty; the Cisco Healthcare Executive Advisory Board; the IBM Healthcare and Life Sciences Executive Advisory Board; the Society of Laparoendoscopic Surgeons, Conference Faculty; and the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs, Blue Ribbon Committee on the Future of Healthcare Technology, NIBS. Dr. Portale has delivered presentations for numerous conferences, including the California Hospital Association, the Society of Laparoendoscopic Surgeons, the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs, the Blue Ribbon Committee Meeting, Wireless Healthcare and Life Sciences Conference, Cisco, StorageTek Healthcare, CalRHIO, HIMSS, the 13th Annual Symposium on Computer Applications in Medical Care, the Omnis Group, and the IBM Health Industry Executive.