

Lieutenant General (Ret.) Earl B. Hailston

Mr. Hailston is currently Senior Vice President of Defense Relations at Rolls Royce North America Inc., a position he has served in since 2005. Mr. Hailston is also Vice President of the Department of Defense's US Army and US Marine Corps Programs. Academically, Mr. Hailston received a BS in political science with a minor in history from Troy State University. He has also completed graduate level studies in public administration at Shippensburg University.

Mr. Hailston served in the US Marines, retiring in 2003 at the rank of Lieutenant General. His high level command positions have included Commander of US Marine Corps Forces Pacific; Commander of US Marine Corps Forces Central Command; Commanding General of III Marine Expeditionary Force; US Pacific Command Director of Strategic Plans and Policy; and Commanding General of Third Force Service Support Group. Mr. Hailston has received the Defense Distinguished Service Medal, the Silver Star, the Legion of Merit, the Bronze Star with Combat "V", Defense Meritorious Service Medal, the Meritorious Service Medal, Who's Who in America, and Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.