

COL Brian Eastridge, MD

Dr. Eastridge is currently the Director Emeritus of the Joint Theater Trauma System as well and a Clinical Associate Professor of Surgery at the University of Texas Health Science Center, San Antonio as well as Attending Surgeon at the U.S. Army Institute of Surgical Research in Brooke Army Medical Center. His previous appointments include positions as the Directorship of the Trauma Service at Brook Army Medical Center. He has made multiple deployments as a trauma surgeon in support of combat operations in Iraq and Afghanistan.

Academically, Dr. Eastridge holds a BS in Biochemistry from Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University (1985) and a MD from University of Maryland School of Medicine (1989). He completed his internship and residency in General Surgery at the University of Maryland (1989-1995) and was General Surgery Administrative Chief Resident (1995-1996). Dr. Eastridge also completed a Fellowship in Surgical Critical Care/Trauma at University of Texas Southwestern (1996-1997). Dr. Eastridge is a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons and a member of the Association for Academic Surgery, the Society of Critical Care Medicine, the Southwestern Surgical Society, the Association for Surgical Education, the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States and the American Association for the Surgery of Trauma. He has been an Editor/Reviewer for Journal on Information Technology in Healthcare, Journal of Orthopedic Research, and Journal of Trauma and he sits on many regional and national Committees.

Dr. Eastridge has been awarded the Defense Meritorious Service Medal (2007), the Army Commendation Medal (2005), Iraq Campaign Medal (2004), the Bronze star (2002), Distinguished Physician Award (2005), and Outstanding Faculty Achievement Award in Resident and Student Teaching University of Texas Southwestern (2000). He has authored approximately 27 publications and 9 book chapters.