

Robert G. Frank, Ph.D.

Dr. Robert G. Frank is currently the 21st president of The University of New Mexico. Dr. Frank was previously the Provost and Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs at Kent State University from July 2007 to 2010. Prior to that, he was the dean of the College of Public Health and Health Professions at the University of Florida, where he also served as a professor in the Department of Clinical and Health Psychology. Dr. Frank holds a doctorate in clinical psychology from the University of New Mexico.

Dr. Frank is a Diplomate in Clinical Psychology from the American Board of Professional Psychology. Additionally, he is past president of the Division of Rehabilitation Psychology of the American Psychological Association and a Fellow in Rehabilitation Psychology, Clinical Psychology, and Health Psychology. He formerly chaired the Florida Developmental Disabilities Council, the Legislative Committee of the American Congress of Rehabilitation Medicine, and American Psychological Association's Committee on Professional Continuing Education (1997) and its Board of Educational Affairs (2000). Dr. Frank's scholarship focuses on two areas: psychological adjustment to catastrophic injury and health policy.