

CAPT Jeffrey William Timby, MD

CAPT Timby is currently assigned as the II Marine Expeditionary Force (Forward) Surgeon and Regional Command (Southwest) Medical Director currently deployed to Camp Leatherneck, Helmand Province, Afghanistan. His recent assignments were as the Medical Director, Critical Care, Naval Medical Center, Portsmouth, Virginia and as the Command Surgeon, Joint Task Force Civil Support, U.S. Northern Command, Fort Monroe, Virginia. Earlier assignments include Head, Pulmonary Division, Naval Medical Center, Portsmouth, Virginia; Senior Medical Officer, Shock Trauma Platoon, Combat Service Support Battalion 22, 2d Force Service Support Group, II Marine Expeditionary Force deployed to Iraq; Officer in Charge, Detention Hospital, Joint Task Force Guantanamo, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba; Command Surgeon, Naval Special Warfare Development Group, Dam Neck, Virginia; Department Head, Internal Medicine, Naval Hospital, Pensacola, Florida.

CAPT Timby received a Bachelor of Science from Duke University (1980) and a Doctor of Medicine from Temple University School of Medicine (1984). He is certified by the American Board of Internal Medicine in Pulmonary Diseases, Critical Care Medicine and Internal Medicine.

CAPT Timby has been an Assistant Professor of Medicine at the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences, Bethesda, Maryland since October 2002. He has been a part of the Internal Medicine Residency Training Program staff at Naval Medical Center, Portsmouth, Virginia since 2001. He is the recipient of numerous awards and recognitions, including the Defense Superior Service medal, the Bronze Star, the Combat Action Ribbon, and the Defense Meritorious Service Medal.