

Job Summary

---

Nuclear Medicine Technician or Technologist GS-642

Job summary Nuclear Medicine Technician (Technologist) covers positions that involve using radionuclides (exclusive of sealed radiation sources) for diagnostic, therapeutic, and investigative purposes.

Education Must have successfully completed an educational program that meets or exceeds the standards described in Public Law 97-35, and is accredited by an organization recognized by the Department of Education.

Licenses or Certificates Be certified as radiographers in their field. Licensure requirements vary depending on if hired before or after 1/13/1986. Refer to OPM.

Source: Office of Personnel Management \(opm.gov\)